INTRODUCING: QUAZAR'S SUPERPOWER – FAIRNESS

You might ask yourself, "is it fair to teach FAIRNESS in a world where so many things just aren't fair?" Absolutely! We have to start somewhere, and if we begin at the beginning with our children, there is hope and where there is hope there is a brighter future, especially for them.

Our quirky Super-Champion Quazar gave students a great example of what it means to work in a fair way. In the example, there were four students in the class. Two had a notepad and one had a pencil. The fourth did not have anything at all. Quazar helped students to understand that the fair thing to do would be to make sure each student had both a notepad and a pencil so their classroom could be a fair place where everyone was treated equally.

Quazar reminded us that FAIRNESS means doing things in a way that makes everyone feel equal! Practicing FAIRNESS is a great way to make our school feel more equal, so we can all work together.

We hope you'll help your children to understand what being fair means and put it into action in your daily lives. Our teachers are doing an amazing job here and we thank you all.

INTRODUCING: QUAZAR'S SUPERPOWER – FAIRNESS

You might ask yourself, "is it fair to teach fairness in a world where so many things just aren't fair?" Absolutely! We have to start somewhere, and if we begin at the beginning with our children, there is hope and where there is hope there is a brighter future, especially for them.

Our quirky Super-Champion Quazar's latest adventure took place at the school on the third moon of the planet Hendrix where they were having their annual "Strut Your Style" pageant. The students couldn't agree on the type of dancing for their boogie down Main Street. Some kids wanted the usual Hip-Hop, others wanted Rock, or Techno, or Pop...even the Polka was mentioned.

Quazar loves music and dancing, so by playing a pretty wild riff on the keyguitboardar (that's a combo keyboard/guitar) before you could say, "Jimminny Hendrix", those kids were bustin' moves that defied gravity. It was dance mania, very hip, lots of hop, splash of techno, touch of rock, and a dash of pop! (Sadly, no Polka.)

Admiral Admirable (who sends Quazar on all the Superpower missions) was confused and wondered just how this helped them solve the dilemma. "It was easy", Quazar said, "by combining all their favourite dance styles, they learned that sometimes the FAIREST thing to do is give everybody a little of what they want."

We hope you'll help your children to understand what being fair means and put it into action in your daily lives. Our teachers are doing an amazing job here and we thank you all.
